Description

Whether you're an experienced collector, a beginner or just someone who is curious, you will find in the Aude region a place that is quite unique. The setting is exceptional and here nature is still carefully preserved. Here, growing in pots or directly in the ground is a cactus trail; most of them are planted outside, throughout the year in flowerbeds. There are about 2,000 varieties to discover. (Group tours available by prior arrangement.) Sales of plants, garden design advice, etc. It's a unique chance to come and explore a world of little-known shapes and colours. Free admission to the sales greenhouse.
